Taxation of Business Property: Is Uniformity Still a Valid Norm? (Praeger's National Tax Association S):

This newest volume in Praeger's National Tax Association series examines the taxation of business property. Experts from the corporate and academic world address the crucial matters of: the changing business property tax base and its impact on local government economic health; the emerging legal issues in business property taxation; uniformity as a tax policy objective; the enforcement of uniformity; issues concerning the valuation of business property; and the appropriate role of business property taxation. This volume will be of interest to tax specialists in business and government.

About the Author JOHN H. BOWMAN is Professor of Economics in the School of Business at Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond.
